

Our home is a home of peace.

We will take our thoughts captive and our emotions under control.

Our bodies are Holy Temples for the Lord and we will treat them like that.

I am beautiful just like my daughters are.

No foxholes or strife will enter into our marriage.

We will strive to respect one another as a family.

Our boys will become mighty warriors of God.

No one will enter this property that is not sent by God.

We will be world changers.

My husband will gain more respect and favor from people all around the world.

Our family will work as a unit and strive to serve one another in every area.

We will keep God and integrity first in all circumstances.

With the help of God, we will keep love, self-discipline, peace, joy and contentment in the center of our lives.

“May the favor of the Lord our God rest upon our home.” Psalm 90:17
